

Morgana Shaw

Upcoming feature films (2009 releases) include I Love You Phillip Morris with Jim Carrey and Ewan McGregor. Three Stories About Joan with Bruce Willis, and Indie films Pearl and Skateland.

Other film work includes starring and supporting roles in Mad Money with Diane Keaton, Missionary Man opposite Dolph Lundgren, Secondhand Lions with Haley Joel Osment, Jericho with R. Lee Ermey and Mark Valley, American Outlaws with Colin Farrell and Home Fries with Drew Barrymore.

Among Morgana's many television roles are guest starring and supporting roles on Prison Break, Exposed, Inspector Mom, Walker Texas Ranger, Sweet Tornado-Margo Jones, True Women, and A Promise to Carolyn. In the highly regarded trade daily Variety, reviewer John McCarthy called her performance as the sadistic Jolene in A Promise to Caroline, "chilling."

A native Texan, who has worked professionally on stage and screen, is also an accomplished award-winning choreographer. Morgana recently returned with standing ovations and rave reviews from The Spoleto Festival in Charleston, SC performing her Award-Winning portrayal of the legendary "Bette Davis" in the Broadway-Bound one-woman hit production of All About Bette; An Evening with Bette Davis by Camilla Carr. A "bring-back" role which earned Ms Shaw a Best Actress of the Year Award at Theatre Three in Dallas, Texas.